SCHOOL FETE

"Life is more fun if you play games."

The biggest and the most important, long-awaited activity of Hampton Court is the Annual Fete. This year our school fete was held on 12th October, 2022.

This year too all the teachers and students worked with excitement and thrill to make this year's fete a success.

The fete began on a bright and sunny day. It was inaugurated by Shalabh Garg, an entrepreneur-business man with engineering background.

All the teachers had their individual game stalls which were decorated with colourful charts, streamers and balloons.

The main attraction has always been the Jam-session. Our students and the Ex-Students tapped their feet with full gusto to the latest numbers played by the DJ.

In the end the winners of the four main prizes were announced. It was a very successful event and the co-operation of the parents, sisters, the staff and students made this day a memorable one.

MINI FETE

MARATHONS

The 26th September, 2022 was the day when finally all the students of Hampton Court participated in the Annual Marathon

All the students participated in the marathon with excitement and exhibited great levels of energy.

They ran as per their different categories junior school, the middle school and the seniors – they were further divided into the categories of boys and girls.

Starting with the juniors from Hampton Court till Garhwal Terrace and back. Followed by the junior school were the students of the Middle School who ran from the school to Ambedkar Chowk and back. The third category was of the students of Senior School. The route of the marathon covered the entire Camel's Back Road.

The event was tiring towards the end, yet the spirits were high. It was truly a wonderful activity thoroughly enjoyed and actively participated by all.

"The marathon's about being in contention over the last 10K. That's when it's about what you have in your core. You have run all the strength, all the superficial fitness out of yourself, and it really comes down to what's left inside you. To be able to draw deep and pull something out of yourself is one of the most tremendous things about the marathon."

–Rob de Castella, Australian world champion marathon runner

How to be successful always | THE story of a MVP

Giannis-Antetokounmpo

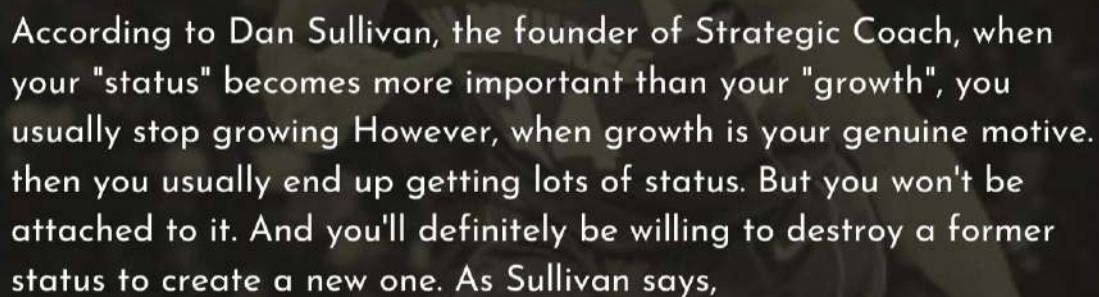

Antetokounmpo grew up poor in Greece. He and his brother actually had to share the single pair of basketball shoes their family could afford. His brother would wear the shoes during the early game and Antetokounmpo would wear the same shoes during the late game.

Antetokounmpo recently signed a major deal with Nike, and now his signature shoes are being worn by tens of thousands of kids throughout the world. During the 2018-2019 season, he was awarded the NBA's Most Valuable Player award. In an interview, ESPN commentator Rachel Nichols asked Antetokounmpo if it had sunk in that he was the MVP.

"I'm really happy about it, I'm not going to lie," he said. "But I don't ever want to hear about it again for the rest of my life. It's a great accomplishment and great honor. But, you know, that's in the past now."

"Wait, you mean you don't ever want to hear the words 'MVP' again? Nichols asked, surprised."

"No, I think it's gotten too much. Usually, when you share that, you tend to relax. If I keep thinking, I'm the MVP of this league, then what's going to happen? I'm just going to relax. And I do not want to do that. I'm proud of it. But let's go for the next goal" Antetokounmpo is defined by his goals, not his previous accomplishments or failures. He's defined by what he's going to do next. He's chasing his future self, and that's why he's continually successful.

According to Dan Sullivan, the founder of Strategic Coach, when your "status" becomes more important than your "growth", you usually stop growing. However, when growth is your genuine motive, then you usually end up getting lots of status. But you won't be attached to it. And you'll definitely be willing to destroy a former status to create a new one. As Sullivan says,

"ALWAYS MAKE YOUR FUTURE, BIGGER THAN YOUR PAST."
